IN USE 100 YEARS.
SKIN DISEASES.

Are of two kinds: firstly, those which are only skin deep (which are not now to be considered); secondly, those which are caused by a bad state of the blood, and which attack various parts of the body in different ways. Skin diseases shows itself in the HEAD, sometimes in the form of Dandruff which no amount of brushing and combing will get rid of, and sometimes in the form of Scaly Eruptions. In the NECK, by an enlargement of the glands (commonly called Glandular Swellings), which if unchecked become very unsightly wounds. In the ARMPITS, and the inside of the ELBOWS by an inflamed Roughness of the Skin, which is very painful when washed. In the HANDS, by deep Cracks or Fissures which, if healed for a few days, speedily open again, or by horny looking patches. In the LEGS, by Hard, Shiny and Inflamed Swellings, or by wounds more or less deep. And on the BODY, in Red Scaly Patches, which as often as rubbed off, form again or in the discharge of a thin, watery fluid of a very disagreeable nature. In all these cases the treatment must be twofold. An Ointment is required to relieve Itching, and Medicine must be taken to change the state of the Blood, and render it pure.

Both these requirements are supplied by
Dr. Roberts' Celebrated Medicines,
The OINTMENT called
"THE POOR MAN'S FRIEND,"
And the
ALTERATIVE PILLS,
Called "PILULÆ ANTISCROFULÆ,"

these Two Medicines have now stood the test of 100 years trial, having been introduced to the public in the latter part of the last century.

They may be obtained of all Chemists, or of the Proprietors

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNES CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL and ONLY GENUINE.

ADVICE TO INVALIDS.—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media, and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis. &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5, 1869, to J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33 Great Russell-street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from affirm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman or C... was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say had been sworn to. ... "The Times," July 13, 1864.

... 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each.
Sold in bottles at 1s ...
None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

CAUTION.—Beware of Piracy and Imitation.

H. H. THE NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY
ADVERTISING AT RAILWAY STATIONS.

THE PROPRIETOR of the Bombay Gazette Press, having leased from the NIZAM'S STATE RAILWAY Company the exclusive right of advertising at all the Railway Stations belonging to the Company, is prepared to contract with parties desirous of posting notices or advertisements on the lines.
The Cantonment of SECUNDRABAD, as is well known, contains the largest military garrison in India—a garrison comprising over 5,000 British and native troops. Contiguous to it is the Cantonment on BOLARUM, garrisoned by two regiments and one battery of the Hydrabad Contingent, all officered by Europeans. South of Secunderabad, about 4 miles are the suburbs of Hydrabad, containing the Nizam's regular troops, about 5,000 in number, officered mostly by Europeans—besides a large civil population. It would manifestly be advantageous to firms to advertise at the stations on the above railway, the most important of which are SECUNDRABAD, HYDRABAD, GANGAWARUM and TANDUR.
The announcements may be in English or in any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES.
INSURANCE COMPANIES, SHIPPING COMPANIES HOTELKEEPERS, MERCHANTS, TRADERS and others who wish to force their business on the notice of the public, all alike value the privilege of Railway Station Advertising.
There is no reason why the privilege should not be also specially valuable to Advertisers in India. Looking to the great and increasing number of Native Railway Passengers on the two trunk lines on Western India, Native Merchants, Traders, &c., feeling that they have the privilege of advertising in their own language, would find the publication of their announcements at Railway Stations an infallible means of extending their business.
Advertisers can select the Stations at which they wish their Placards posted, and may advertise for any period that may be agreed on. The charges have been fixed on an extremely moderate scale to encourage Advertisers to make a liberal use of the new means now offered of making announcements known to the public.
Placards, according to the taste of Advertisers may be printed at moderate charges in ENGLISH or any of the NATIVE LANGUAGES at the Bombay Gazette Press. Estimates on application.

RATES.

Board not exceeding 2 feet long and 2 feet broad Re. 1 per month, For every additional square food annas 2.
Thus a firm exhibiting a board, say 4 square feet will have the advantage of having their business advertisement read by thousands of Passengers on one station platform for the trifling monthly expenditure of Re. 1. Parties advertising on six Stations or more will be allowed a discount of ten per cent. twelve Stations or more, twenty-five per cent.
The boards to be delivered at the Bombay Gazette Office whence they will be sent by the Lessee to the various stations selected by the Advertisers. In the event of the contract terminating, the boards will be brought back to Bombay at the expense and risk of the Advertiser.
Special arrangements for long periods.
For further particulars apply to the Manager of the Bombay Gazette Office, Esplanade Road, Fort.

The bidding commenced with Rs. 1,000, and the property was knocked down to Mr. Cowasjee Dinshaw Adenwalla for Rs. 5,300.

DROWNED.—An inquest was held by the coroner yesterday, at the Gocouldas Tejpal Hospital, touching the death of a Mahomedan lad, aged 12 years, named Vullee Mahomed Hajee Joosub, who yesterday forenoon, while with a number of other boys were bathing in the sea at the Carnac Bunder Basin, got drowned. CLAIM BY A VICTORIA DRIVER.—Mr. Shapoorji K. Sanjana, barrister, appeared yesterday before Mr. Hamilton, in answer to a summons charging him with refusing to pay carriage fare to a victoria driver. On the 16th ultimo, Mr. Sanjana hired a victoria to go from his office near the High Court to his residence in Dhobie Talao, and on reaching his destination he offered four annas, which the driver refused to take, demanding six annas as his legal fare. The defendant contended that the distance he was driven over being under a mile, the fare that he had tendered was the proper one, and he added that he had always paid four annas for that distance. The Magistrate said, that, according to the rules laid down by the authorities, four annas was the regulated fare from the Fort to the Dhobie Talao stand, but as the defendant had travelled beyond that distance, his Worship held that he should pay six annas, and expenses.

A FEMALE THIEF.—A young Mahomedan woman, named Kheteeja, was charged yesterday, before Mr. H. Batty, with stealing sundry articles belonging to two complainants. The Magistrate was informed by a police officer that the woman had already been once convicted of a similar offence and sent to jail for six weeks. On the present occasion one of the charges against her was that she removed four silver bangles from the hands of a little Mahomedan. She was arrested by a passer-by, who seemed to know her, as she was pawning the ornaments with a Marwadi. In another case, she stole a sari and other wearing apparel belonging to Serabai Moroba, a native Christian. The accused had been staying with her for some time, and on Sunday night she went away with the articles. Pleading guilty she was sentenced by the Magistrate to two months' imprisonment for the first offence and four months' for the second.

BURIED ALIVE.—An inquest was held by the coroner yesterday, in D'Lisle Road, touching the death of Narayen Rama, aged 30 years, a labourer employed at the extension works of the Howard and Bullough Mill. On Wednesday afternoon the deceased and two other labourers were working in an excavation for the foundations of the mill, when suddenly a large portion of the north bank gave way, and the deceased was buried beneath it. Six women were working with the labourers, carrying up the earth in baskets, and one of them, named Rajoo, was also injured. She was sent away to the J. J. Hospital. On the earth being removed the unfortunate man was found to be dead. The verdict was that death was caused by the deceased having been accidentally buried in an excavation by the sudden falling in of a part of one of the sides.

A JEWISH "HABEAS CORPUS" CASE.

YESTERDAY, at the High Court, before the Hon. Mr. Justice Scott, Isaack Shashoor, a Jew, produced his grand-children, Jehooda Terkiltoba, a boy about ten years of age, and Luloo Terkiltoba, an infant girl, in answer to a writ of habeas corpus requiring him to produce them before the court. The rule was granted by his lordship on an affidavit made by Yose Terkiltoba, the father of the children, who stated that his father-in-law, Isaack Shashoor, residing at Bellasis Road, called at his house in Grant Road, on Sunday, the 22nd ult., while he was absent from his house. On his return, he found that his two children abovenamed were not at home; and in answer to his enquiry his wife informed him that they had been taken away by her father. Applicant therefore went to his house to fetch his children, but his father-in-law declined to give them into his custody, and began to quarrel with him. Under these circumstances he prayed for an order directing Isaack Shashoor forthwith to produce the children before the court, and show cause why he should not hand them over to the applicant. Isaack Shashoor said that the children, came to his house of their own record, saying that their father ill-treated them and wanted to sell them and that he, therefore, gave them protection. The boy, in answer to the court, said that his father had been in the habit of beating them, and that they therefore went to their grandfather's house. The wife of the applicant said that, since she came to Bombay, she had been living with her father; and that the children lived with the applicant, who had been ill-treating them. The applicant denied ill-treating his children at any time. His lordship eventually ordered the children to be given up to the applicant in court. His lordship told the wife of the applicant that, if the later continued to ill-treat the children, she might apply to the court, and that a proper guardian would be appointed.

DIVINE SERVICE.

SAINT THOMAS' CATHEDRAL.

Friday, May 4.

8-30 p.m.—Communicants' meeting.

Holloway's Pills and Ointment are particularly recommended to persons who have to pass their lives in confined and crowded places; hundreds of thousands of our fellow-creatures toil from morning until evening in factories and workshops to the detriment of their health, and the deterioration of the race. They suffer in consequence from indigestion, flatulence and want of appetite, and these complaints, if neglected, bring about nervousness and failure of the vital powers. Holloway's remedies can be used by such sufferers to their very great advantage, as they are mild in action, and certain in their effects. No one need therefore lose a day's work when using them, a matter of consequence to those whose daily bread depends on daily toil.

MUNICIPAL ASSESSMENT CASE.

THE following judgement was delivered on Wednesday by Mr. H. Batty in the appeal of Narrondas Culliandas vs. the Municipal Commissioner of Bombay. His Worship, in delivering his decision, said:—There is no dispute as to the facts. The main issue is as to the principle on which the estimate should be made. The letter of the Assistant Municipal Commissioner No. 1344 of 1887-88, dated the 18th December, 1887, shows that the basis taken for the estimate was "a fair proportion to the value paid by appellant for the land." Mr. Crawford, who appears for the Municipality, admits that in the absence of other material for decision, the letting value was taken by the Assessor to be such amount as it might reasonably be expected the purchase-money would yield annually if judiciously invested in land. It is contended that this is a fair principle as appellant is a shrewd and experienced man, and would not have invested his capital without reasonable expectation of the usual return. This, however, either assumes that the land was purchased solely with regard to its present and not with reference to its prospective value at all, or implies that the prospective and not only the immediate value is to be taken into consideration in the assessment which would be contrary to the provisions of the Act. Admittedly, the appellant paid a large price for the land in question. He says he bought in April, 1887, and admittedly a rise in the value of the land was then anticipated owing to the new Ripon Road on which it abuts, and which appears to have been opened about 8 or 9 months before the appellant's purchase. But it is not pretended that at the date of the purchase the land was already capable of receiving a high rental. Appellant has produced his books showing that last year he realized only Rs. 30 from the three pieces now in question, and that in the previous year he realized only Rs. 60 for a larger area in which these pieces were included. The Municipal Bill for 1887, put in by him, shows that he was charged for these three pieces only Rs. 25 as the net annual value. His statement of facts is not contraverted. It has not been shown that he has or might have obtained better terms, or that any of the land in the neighbourhood has hitherto secured a tenant at a higher rate. It is hardly reasonable to suppose that if better terms had been obtainable he, as a shrewd man of experience, would have refused them merely in order to evade the small percentage leviable as a rate. It is not alleged that he has taken any steps to utilize the land for any other purpose than that to which it has hitherto been put, and it cannot, in the absence of evidence, be assumed that it would have paid him to do so. Whatever may be the future possibilities of the land, the prospect of a new vicinage does not appear as yet to have operated on the rental. That a prospective enhancement in the rental cannot be taken into consideration in the annual assessment is clear from the Act and abundantly established by decided cases. The valuation is to be made from year to year, and the manifest intention of the Legislature was that occupiers should be liable only for the realizations reasonably to be anticipated in the year for which the assessment was to be made. It is not to be calculated on the probable returns of future years. The purchase-money which generally has reference to a remoter future is therefore no safe guide. There must be an immediate prospect of the unearned increment before the burden can be proportionally increased. Ratepayers are not to be taxed on their hopes and speculations; but on reasonable and immediate expectations. That can hardly be called a reasonable and immediate expectation of which no evidence can be adduced except the purchaser's hopes for future years. The case at XI. c., I. L. R., 275, cited by appellant is on all fours with this. There the Assessor "estimated the total expenditure on the building and land Rs. 18,00,000," and the gross annual rent, "at the rate of 2 3-4 per cent. on the said sum." This was declared to have been an "obviously fallacious principal," and the "annual value" is declared to mean the annual money benefit derivable from "the property," and could mean any percentage on its cost. This has been the invariable test in the analogous cases in England as to poor rates. There the test applied is what would a hypothetical tenant give for the year's occupation of the property as it stands (Rebus sic Stantibus). How the hypothetical tenant's offer is to be inferred, the following cases will show:—In R. vs. Abury Parte Cemetry Co. (8L. R. Q. B. 515), Blackburn, J., said:—"No injustice will be done if the company are rated in every year according to the value which a hypothetical tenant would give for the occupation in the preceding year, and according to this rule, the company's receipts in one year will form the rateable value of the cemetery in the next year. In R. vs. Westbrook, (16 L. J. M. C. 87), Denman, C. J., said:—"No injustice will be done if in every year the occupier can be assessed according to the actual value in that year, and it is the duty of the overseers to arrive as nearly at this as they can." In R. vs. Flettur, (30 L. J. M. C. 89), Cockburn, C. J. said:—"The true principle on which the value of the occupation to the hypothetical tenant, contemplated by the Act, is to be estimated is to assume the continuance of those circumstances which constitute the value to the existing occupier, unless it be made to appear that those circumstances are about to undergo any change. It will be time enough to deal with such altered circumstances when they arise. So Mellor, J., Metropolitan Board of Works vs. West Ham, 6 (L. R. Q. B. 193)—"The rateable quality of land is not to be determined by what it was or by what it may hereafter become," and "the rateable quality of land must be determined by what it was at the time the rate is made." So in Tyne Coal Company vs. Wallsend (46 L. J. M. C. 185), where it was argued that the mine then inundated was in process of becoming valuable. Coleridge, C. J., remarked:—"You do not rate land in respect of its value being enhanced in respect of some possible future and contingent benefit, nor do you reduce its rateability in respect of some future and coutingent loss; but you take only its present value, and as it appears to me if any other principle was adopted it would lead to endless speculation and difficulty." In R. vs. St. Nicholas Gloucester, (1 J. R. 724), Buller, J., said:—"If a private house be rated at any particular sum and it be converted into a shop, the rate must increase in proportion to the increased value of the house, but if the shop be again converted into a private house the rate must be proportionally decreased. This case is similar to the Cheltenham Spa, while the waters are sold the rate must be in proportion to the profits arising from the sale." From these cases it appears that the letting value will prima facie be that of the preceding year, and that to justify an increase in rates there must be a demonstrable improvement in the subject-matter proportional in value to the proposed increase in assessment. If the tenant exist only in hypothesis, yet the terms, it is supposed he would offer, must not be purely imaginary, but a reasonable interference from evidenced capabilities of the property. The only class of cases in which prospective value has been taken into consideration in rating is that to which R. vs. Mirfield (109, 219) belongs. There the future price of growing trees was estimated in the yearly rating, though not realizable for years, but the ratio decidendi obviously then was that there was an existing and tangible possibility communibus annis, on which a tenant could calculate in making his terms. There is nothing to evidence a similar inducement to tenants in the present case, and no reason for supposition that as yet the yearly yield will be more than in the preceding year. The increase in assessment seems premature, and the order is accordingly reversed and the former assessment will stand. The excess is to be refunded.

HIGH COURT.—MAY 3.

(Before the Hon. Mr. Justice BAYLEY.)

COLLISION IN THE DABOOL CREEK.

JOSEPH AUGUSTUS SHEPHERD AND OTHERS vs. S. S. CELERITY AND OTHERS.

HIS LORDSHIP gave judgment in this case, which first came before the court on the 18th January, 1887, and was re-heard in April last. The plaintiffs, it will be remembered, sought to recover Rs. 24,010 for damages caused and loss occasioned to plaintiffs by the collision between the steamships Shastri and Celerity, belonging, respectively, to the plaintiffs and the defendants. The defendants also instituted a cross-suit against the plaintiffs, claiming damages to the extent of Rs. 9,358. On the 1st of February, 1887, his lordship delivered judgment, and in doing so held that each vessel was to blame, and that each assisted in bringing about the collision, and each party was ordered to pay his own costs. The case came on for re-hearing during three days in April last, and it was on this that his lordship gave judgment to-day. In substance the judgment was the same as that delivered in February, 1887, his lordship ordering that Messrs. Shepherd and Company should pay the costs incidental to the rule granted for the re-hearing and the costs of the re-hearing.

N.-W. PROVINCES, OUDH, AND PUNJAB.

GREAT DESTRUCTION AT MORADABAD.—A terrific storm, accompanied by hail, dust, and rain, passed over Moradabad on Monday evening, devastating the whole station. Many lives were lost. All the houses in cantonments were wrecked, and the city was much damaged. Sufferers are streaming in from the surrounding villages, having been injured as the result of the hail, falling houses, and trees. Many have perished. No Europeans were killed. Many hairbreadth escapes are reported. Several soldiers were injured. The physical aspect of the station is completely changed. There is scarcely a tree standing. It is feared that great loss of life has occurred in the city and the surrounding villages.

DACOITY AT DELHI.—Another dacoity was committed at the village of Badarpur, not far from Delhi, a couple of days ago: but the particulars are not yet known. It is believed, however, that the dacoits in this case are members of the same party that raided the bannia's house at Sirsapur the other day. None of the latter have yet been taken. Several unimportant cases of highway robbery have been reported within the past few days, and it is probable that the same men are implicated in these cases. Police arrangements are very complete at present.

THE COMMOTION IN THE MADRAS CHRISTIAN COLLEGE.

THE Madras Mail comments as follows on the commotion at the Madras Christian College:—

The excitement among the students of the Madras Christian College, which has arisen from the well-authenticated report that a Brahmin of the B. A. Junior Class had embraced Christianity, and was to receive baptism last Sunday from the Rev. G. Milne Rae, Secretary of the Free Church Mission, but unconnected with the College, will be the cause of poignant regret to the Rev. Dr. Miller who has devoted the best years of his life, and a large fortune to promoting the welfare of the institution. For many years the school flourished under the accurate designation of the Madras Free Church of Scotland Mission Institution, and it was thought desirable some time ago to adopt the title by which it is now known. But the importation of the word "Christian" into the name was not followed by any modification in the method by which education had been hitherto imparted to those who sought to avail themselves of the benefits of its high class educational organization, and of its moderate charges. The Christian College is believed to differ from the Presidency College chiefly in this respect, that in the former but not in the latter institution, the Bible is a class book, and Christian knowledge is a compulsory subject of study. The Presidency College is officered for the most part by European Christian laymen; and the Christian College is indebted for its high educational reputation mainly to European Christian clergymen. The majority of the European Professors of the Christian College are technically missionaries; but their duties differ widely from those of the typical missionary. They do not seek to make converts to their own faith by exhortation, monition, and admonition; but they sow good Christian seed in the ground, and they live in the hope that it will germinate, and bear fruit abundantly if not in their own time at least in a good time that is coming.

The curriculum of the College has a pronounced Christian basis; and all students have to attend and to stand up, when morning prayer is being said, and they have to attend the classes when the Christian Scriptures are taught. The College has never allowed any student to absent himself from prayer or the Scripture class on the pretext that being a non-Christian such attendance did violence to his religious feelings. The College offers its educational advantages to those boys only who can conform with its fundamental rules as to religion, and all boys who enter it are held to understand the obligation that they incur by so doing. It must be confessed that the chief outcome of the College has been University graduates, rather than Christian converts. The success of the College in making graduates has been remarkable, and if the Scotch people who are the mainstay of the institution are desirous of aiding in increasing the number of graduates in this Presidency, they have much cause to be satisfied with the result of their generosity. It is an open question, however, whether the application of their subscriptions is exactly in accordance with their idea of the use to which the money is applied. The instruction in all secular knowledge requisite to success at examination is of the highest class; but though that instruction is imparted by Christian teachers, under what may be called a Christian roof, and with an avowed Christian aim, the College as an evangelising agency is certainly not a success. The Hindu boys who greatly preponderate read the Bible in order to secure the educational advantages of the College; but they read it with so little profit that they are caused "horror and dismay" by the prospect of one of their number being converted to Christianity.

They addressed a remonstrance to the Secretary of the Mission; and were assured by him that the lad would not be baptised until he had given proof of the strength of his convictions, and until his relatives had had a fair opportunity to discuss his intentions with him. This assurance on Sunday morning should have satisfied the deputation that awaited upon Mr. Milne Rae on behalf of the student's that no unfair advantage would be taken of the recent avowal of belief in Christianity which had been made by a fickle schoolfellow of theirs, and they ought to have known that he is in no way connected with the government of their College; yet by yesterday morning they had talked themselves out of the propriety of conduct which has usually characterised them, and they acted in so disorderly a manner that the work of the College could not be proceeded with. This morning about 440, out of the 640 students of the College absented themselves, and were joined just before the classes opened by 100 of the 200 boys who did attend. A meeting of between 400 and 500 of the students was then held in a temple in Armenian Street for the purpose of deciding on the further action that they considered they owed it to themselves to take. They eventually adopted the following resolutions:—

(1.) That the Rev. George Patterson be asked to offer a suitable apology to us for having assaulted some of the students.

(2.) That the College Senatus be pleased to assure us that none of the Professors of the College will indulge in any criticism which is likely to wound the religious feeling of the students.

(3.) That the Principal be pleased to assure us that none of the Professors will take advantage of their position as such by exerting any undue influence, i. e., influence other than by teaching Scripture, on the conversion of any of the students.

(4.) That the Principal be requested to readmit the students who were dismissed yesterday, and in the events of his refusing to do so to give a satisfactory explanation of his refusal.

(5.) That the fines inflicted on the second class be not imposed, and that the suspension of that class be cancelled, as the conduct of the students was due to the general excitement in the College. The second class offers an apology to the Rev. G. Pittendrigh for their behaviour during his hour with them.

(6.) That none of the students who attend this meeting will again attend the College until all the concessions enumerated above are granted.

(7.) That a memorial be sent to the Principal embodying a report of the proceedings of this meeting.

The students have thus placed themselves in an attitude of irreconcilable hostility to the raison d'etre of the College, and they say very plainly that they will not resume their attendance at the College until all their demands are acceded to. It is hard on Dr. Miller, who is at present on sick leave in Scotland, that he cannot transfer himself by telegraph from the Brig-of-Allan to Madras, for his influence with his "boys" is potent; but it is incumbent on the acting Principal to vindicate his own position, and to defend the throughly well considered principles that govern the management of the College. The great bulk of the protesting students have probably been led away by some exceptionally restless spirits, and the College authorities will be naturally anxious to open a way of escape to all but the agitators; but it is their duty to their own Mission, and to all Christian Mission in the country, to refuse to make any concession to mutinous clamour that has brought their legitimate authority into unmerited contempt. Their College has placed the Hindus of this Presidency under incalculable obligation; and if the time has arrived when Hindus can dispense with the College, the Mission that is responsible for it will be at no loss to find other employment for the grants made for its support. The Government of India, as well as the Government of Madras, will be much concerned at finding that the "tendencies unfavourable to discipline and favourable to irreverence in the rising generation" to which the Viceroy-in-Council referred in January have, apparently, not been affected by the continuous "religious instruction" and the consistent "moral training" of one of the most noticeable schools in this Presidency.

SCULPTURE IN MODERN LIFE.

PROFESSOR EDMUND GOSSE delivered a lecture "On the Place of Sculpture in Modern Life" on Saturday evening, April 7, before a crowded audience, in Toynbee Hall, Whitechapel. Mr. Alma-Tadema, R. A., occupied the chair. Mr. Gosse, in the course of his lecture, said that sculpture got only a tenth part of the notice given to painting and one-half the notice given to architecture. He wanted to get at what was practical and possible; how modern democracy might make use of sculpture in the daily life of citizens.

The system of public open competition was unwholesome and wasteful, and the system of appointing a jury of selection was bad. At the present time sculpture took only one form, and that the worst possible. The people who had statues erected to them belonged to a very limited class: they were either politicians or philanthropists, and they were rarely what might be called picturesque persons. A full-length statue of a man of light and leading should never be executed. But why not busts? A man worked with his head: then why introduce his arms and legs, his dress-coat and boots? Or the arrangement should be not of a man, but to a man. If they wanted a statue of the late Czar, it should be that of a serf bending to thank God for his release; or if they wanted one to Plimsoll, it should be the figure of a sailor in the dress of the present day. For the insides of churches nothing was more appropriate than a medallion portrait in low relief, like the one set up to Frederick Walker, the great artist, in the church at Cookham. Sculpture in a room should bear the same relation to the room which paintings did. In the hall there should be a full-length statue, some Grace or Nymph, which should be the key to the owner's thought and taste. In the dark rooms which Mr. William Morris had put it into the power of man to possess white marble would be out of place—old marble would be very enjoyable. Why not have the sculpture for such a room made of bronze? The bronze of the artist was very picturesque; there was a delicate surface of olive-brown and copper-green and tints of gold and shades of black, so that the eye rested upon it with satisfaction. A great air of refinement was given to a room by statuettes in the corners on pedestals or in niches; they took away the impression that the room was a box.

Mr. Alma Tadema insisted upon the truth of the statement that sculpture was neglected in England. They must really try to find by what means sculpture could regain the place it once occupied. Sculpture suffered more from realism than painting; the feeling of the art was more material.

A sculptor could give a higher sentiment than a painter, but the work remained always more material. A modern feeling, however, had grown up that their grandfathers knew nothing, and that they of the present day were going to suck everything out of their own thumbs. If art was nothing more than the reproduction of what they saw, it was worth nothing. A Scotch lady once said to him words so beautiful that he had them painted on the walls of his studio: "As the sun colours flowers, so art colours life." There fore, art could not be only the reproduction of trousers or aged limbs. If they put up a monument it should be with the superior part of the man—his soul. The question of a competition for a statue was a very sore point. There was a tape, which he hated with the utmost power of his heart, and that was the red tape. As long as they cultivated that tape they would have competition; and some men would stick to that tape. He had heard that all the money set apart for the sculptures on Blackfriars Bridge had been wasted over the competitions. He hoped the working classes would produce beautiful things in England; then their work would be liked better than that of the French, because it was so much more solid and thorough. English work was ever so much better than French. The Minton ware was in every way admirable; and the Doulton ware was improving so much that it was seriously entering into competition everywhere. Every stone in a building could not be a corner stone; every one could not be a Raphael or a Phidias; yet every one had his place in the world. One of the greatest happinesses in life was to do a thing thoroughly, and to do it with a wish to make it as nice as it could be made. A nice thing was always a pleasure to look at and possess: it needed not be a costly thing. Taste could be shown in small things: it was quite wrong to believe that art could only be applied or looked for in fine materials; the statue was not more beautiful in marble than it was in clay.

EXPERIENCES OF A GERMAN BAND.

THE Rev. Dr. Jessop, in an article in the Nineteenth Century entitled "Snowed up in Arcady," says:—

"We had adjourned from the library to the breakfast room and were opening our letters in high spirits, notwithstanding the bitter wind and the snow, when a hideous sound startled us. There, under the window the snow at sadily falling, drawn up in single file, were four human creatures, two males and two females, arra yed in outlandish attire, and every one of them p laying hideously out of tune. It was a German ban d. A more lugubrious spectacle than is presented by a German band, droning forth 'Herz, mein Herz,' in front of your window in a snowstorm it would be difficult to imagine. We suffer much from German bands, but we have only ourselves to thank. I love music, and I am possessed by the delusion that it is my duty to encourage the practice of instrumental execution. Five or six years ago there was a band of eight or nine performers who perambulated Norfolk, and they came to me at least once a month. Whenever they appeared I went out to them and gave them a shilling, airing my small modicum of German periodically, and receiving flattering compliments upon my pronunciation, which gratified me exceedingly. These people disappeared at last, but they were succeeded by another band, and a very inferior one, and I took but little notice of them. There were seven of these performers, a cornet and two clarionets being prominent—very. However, they got their shilling, and vanished. Three days after their departure came another band. This time there were only four. I thought that rather shabby, but I was busy, did not take much notice of them, and again gave them a shilling. The cornet player was really quite respectable. Next day came four more, and there was no cornet, only the abominable clarionet. It was insufferable. I said I really must restrict myself to sixpence, and that was fourpence more than they were worth. Two days after their departure came a single solitary performer; he had a pan pipe fastened under his chin, a peal of bells on his head, which he caused to peal by his nods, a pair of cymbals attached to one of his elbows, a big drum which he beat by the help of a crank that he worked with one of his feet, and a powerful concertina which he played with his hands. He led off with a dolorous chorale in a minor key. It was really more than flesh and blood could bear. 'Send him away, Jemima. Send him away!—instantly! Tell him I am sehr krank. Send him away!' The fellow smiled with unctuous complacency. But when he got only twopence, his face fell. 'Ach nein! You plaise, sir professor, he geeve one sheeling to se band—I am se band. He geeve se band only twopence. He do not understand I am se band! You plaise tell him I am se band!' 'No! You're to go away. Master's very krauky!' Ze band loitered for half a minute, then it took itself to pieces and went its way. But the fellow's hint about the shilling was significant, and led to an investigation. Then it turned out that the band of seven or eight which was going its rounds that year, split itself up when it came into my neighbourhood, and, in view of my shilling, presented itself in two detachments, each of which reckoned on my shilling, and several times carried it off. Now I give one penny for each performer, and only when there is a cornet do I send out coffee to the instrumentalists. It was, however, not in flesh and blood to withold the shilling from the players of that quartette on that bitter morning. It was heart-rending to think of their having at the peril of their lives staggered through three miles of snow-drifts. It was inhuman to send them away without coffee. And they had it accordingly. Poor things! poor things! Where were they going? They were going back to the Red Lion, a stone's throw off, where they had slept the night before, and where they meant to spend this night in delighting the hearts of the rustics by waltzes and polkas, and gathering not such a bad harvest for the nonce. 'Tear, sir!' said Mr. Style, 'to hear that there trombone a soleing 'Rule Britannia'; That made you feel he was a real musician—that it did!"

THE Director-General of the Post Office, who accompanies the Government to Simla, has this year arranged to leave more than half of his office establishment in Calcutta, thereby effecting a saving of some two thousand rupees a month. While the Director-General is in Simla, the office in Calcutta has been placed in charge of Mr. L. Mesne, the Secretary to the Director-General, and in these days of rapid communication there seems to be no reason why a similar arrangement should not be adopted in other departments. If the heads of departments must spend the summer in the hills, the subordinate staff might remain on the plains.

COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

BOMBAY MARKET REPORT.

THURSDAY EVENING, MAY 3.

A BRISK local demand for Cotton, leading to a large daily business, in which exporting firms have hardly participated, has been, perhaps, the most prominent feature in the past commercial week. There has been a good deal doing in Wheat; but considerably less than in the week preceding, while Seeds, on the other hand, have shown more activity; but, upon the whole, and from merchants' point of view, the trade, for the season of the year, has been disappointing in character, and restricted in compass. Exchange, which showed some signs of improvement at the close of last week, has since become weak again, and closes this evening on the level of last Thursday's quotations. Freights have been very dull, and rates and re-charters have been reported at losing rates to the first holders of the tonnage. Government Paper has moved slightly upward, this afternoon's quotation for Four per cents. showing an advance of 3-16ths per cent. for the week. Shares have been quiet, with less demand for Mill Scrip, but the feeling in the market generally is steady. Firmer markets in Liverpool and Manchester naturally do not improve the position of our Imports here, and when a falling Exchange is also taken into account the situation may well be as unsatisfactory as we have still to report.

MONEY.—Thanks to the ample provision made for financing our Export trade this year in contrast to, and possibly the outcome of, the different system, which prevailed last year, we are passing through the busiest part of our season without any signs of monetary pressure, and with accommodation obtainable at the Presidency Bank at 6, and in the open market at 4½ per cent. or less. The weekly statement of the Bank of Bombay issued last Monday showed an increase in the Cash Balance of some 5⅝ lakhs, and though Discounts, as might be expected, had increased, and Loans were a little heavier, Private Deposits had been augmented by over 13¼ lakhs, and the net diminution in trade requirements was represented by nearly 6 lakhs. Six per cent. per annum is still the Presidency Bank's minimum rate, no change having been made at the Board meeting this afternoon.

EXCHANGE.—Although rates on last Friday ruled the same as were quoted in our last report, there was a steady feeling in the market which became firmer in the after part of the day. No demand worth mentioning was experienced for Bank Paper, but a fair amount of Credits was again placed in the earlier part of the day at 1s. 4 7-16d. The market was firmer at the close of the week, and an advance of 1-32d. to 1-16d. in demand Bank Bills, of 1-16d. to 3-32d. in Wire Transfers, and of 1-16d. in 3 months' sight Credits was quoted. In the last, some business was done at the enhanced quotation, and some Wire Transfers, both Bank and Private, were placed at 1s.4 3d., though little business transpired generally. The new week opened with a quiet tone, and rates partially declined 1-32d. from the first quotations, but the amount of business passing continued very limited. The buying rate for 3 months' sight Credits in the morning was 1s. 4 17-32d; but nothing was done at that rate, though something transpired at 1s. 4½d. and some private demand was sold at 1s. 4 7-16d. The following day the market was decidedly weak, and rates, after opening on the level of Monday's quotations, receded therefrom 1-32d. for Bank Bills, 1-32d to 1-16d for Wire Transfers, and 1-16d. for 3 months' sight Credits. A few Credits came out at 1s. 4 15-32d. and later on at 1s. 4 7-16d.; and some Bank Wire Transfers were placed in the afternoon at 1s. 4 5-16d.; but business on the whole was very restricted. The market was steady yesterday, but with rates rather nominal pending the receipt of news regarding Council allotments. A little business was done in Wire Transfers, both Bank and Private, at 1s. 4 5-16d. and some 3 months' sight Credits were placed at 1s. 4 7-16d. The telegrams to hand this morning brought news of a decline of ¼d in Silver in London at 42½d. per oz., and of the allotment of all but a lakh of the 40 lakhs of Council Bills offered, at 1s. 4⅛d.—the same rate as Government obtained on the previous Wednesday, though 3-32d. to ¼d. below what they got for the extra Bills last Saturday. A lakh of Transfers on Bombay was also placed at 1s. 4 11-32d. In presence of these advices our market opened at a decline; but some Wire Transfer was afterwards done at 1s. 4-15-16d. between Banks and Private at the same rate. Some 3 months' sight Credits were also placed at 1s. 4-7-16d.; but we call the market quiet, with forward rates about the same as ready, which closed as follows:—

GOVERNMENT PAPER moved up a little on last mail-day in presence of a fair enquiry, and the rate for Four per cents for cash and the coming settlement was steady at 100½, the quotation for the 31st May account having been par to 1-16 per cent. premium. The market continued quiet but steady to the end of the week at 100 3-16 for money and the account, and 99 15-16 for the end of next month. On Monday, which was settling day, the market was rather lively. Opening at par Fours went up to 100 3-16, then declined to 100 1-16, and afterwards more than recovered the drop, closing at 100½ for money. The May account rate was at first 99 13-16, but fluctuated with the cash price, and left off at par to 1-16 premium. The settlement having passed out quietly the market opened on Tuesday with a good demand for Fours for money at 100 ⅛; while for the May account, the rate, under the influence of many sellers, was quoted at 99⅞. The cash rate afterwards advanced further ⅛ per cent., touching 100⅛ before the market closed. Yesterday the market was quite for Fours for cash, the rate having been steady at 100⅛ throughout the day. For the 31st instant account the rate advanced to 100⅛ with strong buyers, and some considerable lines were reported to have been booked for that settling day. A steady line has prevailed again to-day, and Fours have not moved from 100⅛ for money, and 100 3-16 for account; but only a limited business has transpired. 4½ per cent. Paper has been neglected, and the nominal quotation has been 106½ to ⅞, the latter being given as the closing price this afternoon.

Municipal Bonds have receded one per cent., and are now quoted at 106. Port Trust Bonds are ¼ per cent. higher, at 95¼.

SHARES have been rather neglected during the past week, and only a limited business has been done. What little has transpired in Mill Scrip has in most cases shown some improvement in rates compared with our quotations of a week ago; and in the Press shares which have been dealt in, higher rates have been established, we note an advance of Rs. 70 in Indian Manufacturing shares; of Rs. 15 in Queen; of Rs. 5 each in Bombay United; David; Framji Petit; Luckmidas Khimjee; Mazagon; Manockji Petit; and Presidency; and of Rs. 2½ in Coorla. Swadeshi are Rs. 25 lower; and New Great Eastern have declined Rs. 20. In Press Scrip Bombay has advanced Rs. 15; Mofussil, Rs. 10; and Apollo and New Berar, Rs. 5 each. Bank of Bombay shares are Rs. 5 higher. Bombay-Burma Corporation are Rs. 60 up for the first issue, and Rs. 20 for the second. Port Canning are Rs. 7½ higher. Bombay Fire Insurance are Rs. 50 up, In Miscellaneous concerns, Bombay Ice have advanced Rs. 2; Kemp & Co., Rs. 4; Cooper, Madon, Re. 1½; and Bapty Flour, Rs. 1 per share.

IMPORTS.

PIECE-GOODS.—The attitude assumed by dealers of holding out for higher rates in view of the impossibility of replacing their stocks on the basis of present prices, has so far only had the effect of restricting business, as demand is too languid to lend any support to an upward movement in rates, the few Mofussil buyers who came forward preferring to curtail their purchases rather than pay higher prices. Of Grey Goods the off-take has been rather less than it was last week, and prices are generally unchanged. Very little has been doing in Bleached Goods; but dealers refuse to invite business by making concessions in price, and firmly maintain their previous quotations in face of a decreasing demand. Turkey Red, Dyed, and Printed Goods are quite unchanged in position and value. We hear that rather more orders are going home by this mail than has been the case of late; but the firmer markets in Liverpool and Manchester will make it more difficult to put through business than before. The market for Local Goods keeps very quiet, with prices generally unchanged.

YARNS.—The imported article is very little enquired for, and the market is quiet but steady at previous quotations. Local Spinnings have been in good demand, and the market is active and advancing at the following official quotations:—

METALS.—A moderate business is reported in Copper, which has advanced 8 annas per cwt. during the week, the market closing firm at the advance. Yellow Metal has been taken to a fair extent, and has moved up 8 annas to Re. 1 per cwt. in a firm market. Iron has been placed to only a small extent; but prices are unchanged, and the tone of the market is steady.

COALS are steady, but holders not having been willing to sell unless at their own full prices, very little business has been reported during the past week. We quote Powell's and Davison's ready at Rs. 26, and Rs. 22½ per ton, respectively. For May shipment also, Davison's is quoted at Rs. 22½; and for Powell's June-July shipment Rs. 22½ per ton is named.

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—This market was quiet for a day after last mail left, and only a few transactions took place, prices, however, remaining steady at last Thursday's quotations. On Saturday, however, a strong demand from local consumers sprang up, which has continued during the present week, leading to large daily takings of ready stuff of most of the descriptions offering. Supported by this demand from spinners, and strengthened by the improved tenor of the advices from Liverpool and New York, the tone of our market has been steady when not firm, though we cannot report an advance of more than Re. 1 to Rs. 3 per candy in prices since last mail, and this only in the cases of Bhownuggur, Dharwar, and Bengals. The position of exporters has been rather that of spectators than participators in the large business doing, and, except as buyers of Bengals for shipment, European firms have been almost out of the market. Bengals have been scarce and in active request during the greater part of the week under review, and higher prices have been quoted, "Fully Good" quality having been in special demand by shippers, and generally without sellers at the enhanced rates. The little Broach remaining in the hands of dealers is mostly of unsatisfactory quality. The largest business of the week has been in Julgaum, at Rs. 198 to Rs. 202 per candy; but Dhollera proper has been taken to almost as great an extent, at Rs. 192 to Rs. 211½. In Oomra descriptions, other than Julgaum, considerable purchases have been reported in Karanja, at Rs. 207-8; Khangaum, at Rs. 201-8; Khandeish Ginned, at 193½; and Barsee, at Rs. 217-23. Of Dhollera kinds Wadwan has been taken to a large extent at Rs. 192-208; Bhownuggur, at Rs. 201-13½; and Mowa, at Rs. 214-14½. The other principal purchases which have transpired have been in Broach, at Rs. 234-6; and Dharwar, at Rs. 203-8 per candy.

The Receipts of Cotton of this season's crop since last Thursday have been 57,000 bales, against 71,500 bales in the corresponding week last year—a considerable falling off compared with last week. The arrivals of new Cotton since the season opened compared with those of the season before now show a deficiency of 171,250 bales, while taking the Receipts of old and new Cotton since the 1st January, it will be seen that the decrease this year compared with 1887 has now become 61,119 bales.

WHEAT.—There was a large business doing in Pessy, which has been arriving very freely at the close of last week, but since then the market has been quieter, and only moderate trasactions have been reported from day to day. There is not much enquiry for Hard Yellow. No. 1 Delhi is coming to Market, and with the exception of some small contracts between dealers we hear of nothing doing in it to arrive. The following are our quotations:—

SEEDS have been active, and considerable transactions have been reported almost every day during the past week, Linseed especially having been in demand at enhanced rates. We quote this seed at Rs. 6-2 0 for this month, and Rs. 6-4-0 for June-July delivery. Rapeseed has been coming forward freely, and has been in good demand for export, with the exception of Yellow Guzerat, which has not found many buyers. # The Bombay Gazette

FRIDAY, MAY 4, 1888.

THE British Indian Association, a respectable and influential society of native politicians in Calcutta, has in a long chapter in its annual report recalled public attention to the familiar, but recently almost forgotten question of the restitution of conjugal rights amongst the Hindus. The case of the anti-reforming party could not have been more moderately or more fairly put than it is in this document, and for that reason it merits notice. The immediate occasion for this pronouncement is a letter which the Government of India addressed to the Local Administrations and to various representative bodies last July, enclosing a communication from the Government of Bombay in which it was suggested that the law and practice of India in regard to suits for restitution of conjugal rights should be assimilated to recent English legislation on the subject. The Government of India gave a general approval of the suggestion, but before legislating upon it they invited expressions of opinion upon the matter, and to that invitation the British Indian Association some months ago sent what appears to have been a very carefully considered reply. The question has not in the interval made progress. There was at one time an expectation that opportunity would be taken in passing the Imprisonment for Debt Bill to carry a clause which would have put an end to imprisonment in enforcement of decrees for the restitution of conjugal rights. But Mr. Scoble's Bill, as passed last March, is not the Trojan horse that some people thought it would be. It is true the Select Committee to whom the Bill was referred proposed absolutely to exempt from liability to arrest or imprisonment judgment debtors who happen to be women, and that a trifling enlargement of their recommendation would have brought within its indulgence Rukhmabai and every other Indian wife who stands aloof from the husband who was not of her choice. The Act as it was passed however, makes no concession to the Rukhmabhais. It saves the female judgment debtor from arrest, but it leaves the recalcitrant wife to pains and penalties which the Government of India mildly suggest are repugnant to modern ideas. One explanation for the silence of the Act upon this subject doubtless is that a law for the regulation of imprisonment for debt does not supply the most appropriate means for regulating questions pertaining to marital rights. The explanation would be deemed sufficient if without unnecessary delay the Government were to deal as reasonably with unmarried wives whose case is on all fours with that of Rukhmabai as they have dealt with women who have run into debt. For, if any regard is to be had to symmetry in apportioning the pains and the penalties of our law, the imprisonment of women for marital offences cannot long survive their imprisonment in execution of decrees for money. Neither policy nor equity demands the retention of that form of penalty in the one case after it has been done away with in the other.

This view of the question, we are aware, is not taken by the British Indian Association It has informed the Government of India of its opinion that cases do arise in which the imprisonment of reluctant wives is both salutary and necessary. On this side of India a more enlightened estimate of the case has been taken by some of the accredited exponents of native opinion. One, at least, of the Mahratti papers, which is not usually to be found on the progressive side, has condemned imprisonment as a harsh and improper method of enforcing decrees of this kind, and this view, from all we hear, is becoming increasingly prevalent in native society. The Indian Government, in proposing a reform of the law, have, as they explained, contemplated nothing more than putting the legislation of India on this subject on a level with that of other civilised nations. It was with no covert intention to shake the foundations of English society that the Legislature in 1884 abolished imprisonment in these cases. That form of imprisonment, with its by no means accidental affinity to the various forms of marriage by capture which still survive in savage life, had become not only repugnant to public sensibilities, but it had become impracticable in procedure. Just as hanging for minor felonies had virtually gone out of practice long before it was abolished by law, because judges and juries alike revolted against it, so the revolt of opinion against the coercion of reluctant wives virtually abolished that form of remedy in advance of the repeal of the law on the subject. And when the Bombay Government point to the new and better law of England as a model to which that of India should conform, the least that should be acknowledged is that in so doing the British authorities have shown a desire that the personal rights of the Indian people shall not be fettered by restraints which public opinion in England has condemned as harsh and brutal. The chief obstacles that are alleged when this reform is proposed are found in Hindu religious ideas. But are they quite accurate, these versions of Hindu religious ideas which represent them as sanctioning, and even insisting upon methods which a not too sentimental judicature in England, and the later practice of nearly every nation in Europe, has assumed to be a harsh survival of barbarism? Even in India there has been progress in this matter, and the question really is, not whether a departure from original ideas and practice shall be sanctioned, but whether the reform which began when the old custom of physically giving the wife into the husband's hands was abandoned, and the comparatively milder method of the Civil Procedure Code was substituted for it. So that we have not to deal with an undisturbed and immemorial practice, but with practices that have no necessary connection with Hindu law and religion, but which are as a matter of fact really derived from the worn out armoury of the English ecclesiastical law. It cannot be too strongly insisted upon that the procedure to which the British Indian Association clings so tenaciously is derived from the old canon law of England, and that it has no more claim upon the veneration of Hindus than the day dreams of the grand Llama. The Association gave this answer to the Government many months ago, and since then their case has lost whatever strength it derived from arguments founded on similarity in the treatment meted out to women in debt and women not eager to live with their lords. Last August their argument was, if purdanashin women can be sent to gaol for running into debt or for contempt of court, why should not women against whom a decree to return to their husbands has issued? The argument ceased to have any validity on the day that the purdanashin woman and every other women in India was declared exempt from arrest in execution of a decree for money, and now the defenders of this harsh procedure in the other case must defend it on its merits, for they no longer gain any help from analogy, and the practice of all lands to which we can look for guidance and wholesome example is against them.

THOSE who hope confidently that the Government of India will reconsider their decision in so far as it affects the Tansa loan may find support in one consideration. The notification to the Government of Bombay that in future no loans should be sanctioned for more than forty years, was called forth by an application for permission to issue loans for drainage and other public works not connected with the water-supply, and had no special reference to the Tansa loan. This unlucky application for permission to raise loans for ordinary public works covering a period of sixty years was the result of the zeal without knowledge of some members of the Corporation who had not the faintest notion of the dangerous ground on which they were treading. It was conceived that inasmuch as the burden of the water-supply was lessened by being spread over three score years, there was no reason why the principle should not be applied on a larger scale and for a longer period. "Many members of the Corporation," the Government were informed, "are of opinion that the period should be 100 years, so as to spread the burden over three generations." When it comes to counting in hundreds of years it is open to any one to propose two hundred or even nine-hundred-and-ninty-nine. Indeed, at the last meeting of the Corporation one member went further and declared that there was no reason in the nature of things why the Tansa loan should be ever repaid; the works would last for ever and would be always worth the outlay. It cannot be imputed to the Government as a fault that such a view of financial futurity should seem a little wild, and even a little perilous. There was no disguise about the intention to throw forward far into the next century some at least of the liabilities which it has been customary to deal with as current obligations. "The Corporation," the Government were informed, "having decided to provide all new permanent works out of loan, and as an annual expenditure of five lakhs will be necessary for ordinary public works, not counting special schemes for completing drainage, &c.," the necessity of clearing all off in forty years would disarrange the Budget. It was urged that investors preferred to take debentures for sixty years than those of a shorter term. The Government of India replied very cogently that the investors probably desired a long investment in the expectation that as time advances five per cent. may become a high rate of interest, and that it would be prejudicial to the Municipality to borrow for a long period instead of borrowing later on at a lower rate. The Government deemed it essential that loans should be so regulated as "not to throw forward too much of the burden on future generations." It is pretty plainly intimated that this policy has been decided upon after due consultation with the India Office. The Secretary of State in sanctioning an advance of money for the docks in Calcutta and Bombay insisted on a sinking fund of one per cent, and it is added that "the Governor-General-in-Council is of opinion that, if the present generation are unwilling to pay so much as one per cent. towards a sinking fund, it is hardly justified in undertaking expenditure at the burden of its remote successors, or in assuming that these successors will not have sufficient similar burdens of their own." This line of thought was obviously suggested by the suggestion that ordinary burdens might be thrown forward for even a hundred years, lest our present budgets might be disarranged; it had no particular reference to the construction of works of the special and abiding character which had already earned for the Tansa scheme the recognition of the Government of a claim to be considered a special work.

SIR LEPEL GRIFFIN proceeds to Europe by to-day's mail steamer. Whether he returns to India will depend upon events. If he do not in the interim decide to resign the service with a view to entering upon a political career in England, he will probably return to this country in November, but not to the Central Provinces, his connection with which Agency he has just terminated, handing over everything in very fair order to his successor. In Central India two States have recently claimed special attention—Bhopal and Indore. Notwithstanding the persistent misrepresentations of the Bengal Press which receives its inspiration from the man who was rightly expelled from Bhopal, there is now every prospect of a better state of things in that State, now delivered from evil influences. In Indore, unfortunately, things are not at all satisfactory; but the presence or the absence of a Political Agent can make but little difference to the well-being of a State when the Prince gives greater heed to his astrologers than to his Dewan. His Highness Holkar has indeed worse advisers than even the astrologers. But the number of unlucky days discovered by the star-readers leaves but little time available for the efficient administration of public affairs. When the days are not unlucky, the Prince may happen to be ill, or out of sorts, or otherwise incapacitated for undergoing the drudgery of attending to affairs of State. Under such conditions things get no forwarder, and they may even go back considerably; the Dewan has become so discouraged—not having been able to see his Highness Holkar for business purposes once a month for many months past—that he has left the State and proceeded elsewhere, explaining to interviewers that he has not been dismissed, and has not resigned, and is neither more nor less Dewan than he was while at Indore. If the astrologers could only interrogate the stars as to how all this may end, perhaps his Highness might take thought and mend. Quien sabe? At all events, Sir Lepel Griffin can no longer exert over his Highness the personal ascendancy which alone seemed able occasionally to counteract the baneful influence of perverse planets.

WE have alluded to the possibility of the prospect of a Parliamentary career interfering with the return of Sir Lepel Griffin to India. The leaders of the Liberal Unionists have offered to provide him with a safe seat, if he will cast in his lot with them. Whether this offer be availed of will depend on circumstances. It is possible that the exigencies of party in England may lead to the absorption of that section of the Liberal Party by the Conservatives. In that case it is not every Liberal not already caught in the vortex, who would deliberately and with tranquil mind abjure his Liberal creed and declare himself a Conservative sans phrase. The time has not come to bid a final farewell to Sir Lepel Griffin; India may yet count upon his services.

THE Nawab Mohsin-ul-Mulk (Moulvie Mehdi Ali), Political and Financial Secretary of Hyderabad, proceeds to England by to-day's mail-steamer to represent the Nizam's Government in the inquiry into the Deccan Mining case. His Highness could have no more trusted or more capable representative than the Nawab, who enjoys in a high degree the confidence of his master and of the British Government, and will carry with him exceptional claims to the confidence of the Parliamentary Committee and of all with whom he comes in contact.

IT is said that the Sirdar Diler Jung has sought to retain the services of Mr. Inverarity for his defence in London, but the engagements of the learned gentleman render a long absence from India impossible. The fee for pressure at Hyderabad, if required there, is understood to be Rs. 2,000 per diem. The Sirdar resides for the present in Secunderabad.

THE monsoon sailings of the P. and O. mail steamers will commence on May 22, from which date until and including September 11 they will sail on Tuesday instead of on Friday, as at present.

THE Government of Bombay have informed the petitioners against the dispersal of European women from Cursetjee Suklajee Street that their orders on the subject have been communicated to the Commissioner of Police.

AT the High Court yesterday, before the Hon. Mr. Justice Bayley, Mr. Rustomjee Byramjee Colabawalla, who was called to the Bar in England some time ago, made the usual declaration, and was admitted as a member of the Bombay Bar.

A MEETING of the Bombay Municipal Corporation was called for yesterday, but was adjourned till Monday next for want of a quorum.

MR. J. L. WARDEN, third Judge of the Small Cause Court, Bombay, has been permitted to return to duty within the period of his leave.

MR. E. L. CAPPEL, C.S., and Mr. H. F. Silcock, Assistant Collector, Poona, has been allowed furlough for ten and fifteen months, respectively, the former from the 10th instant and the latter from the 6th proximo.

They have put forward the following five claims :—(1) Increased pension, or retired pay, for extra service; (2) full pay on compulsory retirement on account of age; (3) rank of captain at seven years' service as officer (this is absurd), not including any service in the ranks; (4) rank of major at twelve years' service as officer (equally absurd), not including any service in the ranks; (5) service as first-class staff-sergeant to count in full instead of half, when commissioned.

BRIGADIER-GENERAL C. J. EAST, C.B., commanding the Sangor District, accompanied by Captain E. A. Young, Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, left on April 30, for Pachmarhi, on inspection duty, which will be finished about the 15th instant. General East then contemplates taking leave till July, when he relinquishes the command of the district. It is not known here who will succeed him.

THE Government of India have sanctioned the grant of compensation to men of the 1st Battalion Rifle Brigade for loss by accidental fire, in February last, of khaki frocks, khaki helmet covers, khaki puggrees, buttons and rings, and khaki puttees, on the ground that the British infantry soldier is required to keep those articles up at his own expense in India.

A LIEUTENANT-COLONEL of local infantry, employed in the Civil Department on a consolidated salary, the amount of which is less than the pay and allowances of his rank, is entitled to have his salary made up to Rs. 1,332-4-0 per mensem, which includes horse allowance for one horse. This is a new ruling, as horse allowance as a separate item was only considered admissible when an officer was employed in the regular line of military duty.

THE STANLEY OPERA COMPANY.

ON Wednesday evening, at the Gaiety Theatre, Mr. Stanley's numerous Company gave the first performance on their return visit to Bombay. The house was crowded by an enthusiastic audience, which seemed bent on enjoyment, and no matter how great the shortcomings of the performers might have been, the audience was so good-humoured that it would have passed them over. But there was little to apologise for or to find fault with. The Company returns very much the better for its stay in Calcutta, and it is only just to assert that the players were never seen or heard to better advantage than on this occasion. Lalla Rookh is far above the average of burlesques. There is a goodly fund of real humour in it, and this is saying a good deal for a burlesque of the present day. Of course puns preponderate, but these can be tolerated if not too far-fetched, and when served up amid sparkling wit are not at all depressing. More than this, the topical songs are good, and the piece in every way suits the company. There is little declamation no great call for histrionic display, but an abundance of simple songs which, with the aid of a remarkably good orchestra, Mr. Stanley has somehow secured, they are rendered very appropriately. There are numerous pretty dances—it would be better if there were more—and the piece being capitally staged, the cast well distributed, and the personages handsomely dressed, the performance is one that cannot but be enjoyed.

NOTES FROM BARODA.

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

BARODA, MAY 1.

A DESTRUCTIVE fire broke out, at about 3 p.m. yesterday, among a number of houses situated in Mamaspole in Ranpura, in the city, but, beyond the reduction to ashes of about ten houses, no accident whatever has been met with. The houses in Mamaspole are thickly populated, and the occupants are mostly Banias and Brahmins. The Banias were greatly alarmed, and in their excitement rushed headlong midst the flames into their houses to remove their money chests. When they were successful in their effort, no assistance at all was rendered by them. Two or three companies of the State Infantry promptly arrived on the scene, and helped a great deal towards checking the progress of the conflagration by pulling down burning beams and rafters. The manual fire-engines were also on the scene, but had to lie idle for a short time owing to the scarcity of water. At evening the fire was still smouldering, but through the exertions of the bheesties it was completely put out by night. We cannot, of course, give anything like a correct estimate of the damage done by the fire, but at a rough calculation it is about Rs. 8,000. The origin of the fire is not yet known.

The Central Jail was the scene of great excitement on Sunday, owing to the escape of two prisoners from its precincts—one a Lohar and the other a young Hindu. The latter has not figured much in the annals of crime, but the former has long been a jail-bird, and is a notorious character. The Lohar was put to various trades while in the jail, and his long apprenticeship made him "a jack of all trades." His work brought in sums ranging between Rs. 4 and Rs. 6 daily. The escape was detected at about 8-30 p.m., when the tattoo was being sounded. An alarm was raised, which brought on the spot a host of policemen, jail warders, and sepoys. The jail authorities were also on the spot, and enquired into the matter. The matter is now under investigation. Meanwhile the runaways are still at large, and the police in search of them.

News from the Nilghiris state that H. H. the Gaekwar will visit Switzerland in the early part of next month. He will probably visit Baroda before his departure, as his sanction has to be obtained to several matters of importance. Several persons have been ordered to keep themselves in readiness to accompany his Highness. The period of his Highness's stay in Europe is not yet definitely known. Colonel Sir Oliver St. John is at present with his Highness.

THE GAIETY THEATRE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Your paper frequently remarked on the poor houses which the last company who visited this city generally had, and it must be most discouraging to the manager of any company to find that the efforts he has made to provide amusement for the Bombay public receive such small support. We have now another company in our midst, and Mr. Stanley has put his first piece on the boards in a way which certainly ought to please any one. If pretty faces, pretty music, abundance of good humour and fun cannot be appreciated, all I can say is we don't deserve to have another company here at all! Mr. Stanley advertises that his stay here will be short, and it will be the fault of the Bombay public generally if they do not make this short stay such a success, that the next time he brings his talented company here he will remain with us a couple of months at least.

THE TANSA LOAN.

THE Government Gazette contains a letter by Mr. F. L. Charles, acting Municipal Commissioner, dated February 9, applying for permission to raise a loan of Rs. 25,00,000 for the Tansa water scheme. Mr. Charles says :—

Government, in their letter No. 1677, dated 8th June 1887, General Department, declined to sanction more than the instalment required for the prosecution of one year's works until they saw how the Corporation would act with regard to Government letter No. 119, dated 11th January, 1887. The Budget (income side) for 1888-89 has now been passed, and while retaining the consolidated rate at 8 per cent. (the minimum allowed by law), the Corporation have made the following reduction in Town Duties :—

| | Actuals for | Estimated yield for | |
|---|---|---|---|
| | 1886-87. | 1887-88. | 188 -89. |
| | Rs. | | |
| Grain .... | 2,05,329 | At 5 annas per khandi. Rs. 1,96,000 | At 2 annas per khandi. Rs. 85,000 |
| Sugar ..... | 1,61,260 | At 7 annas per cwt. Rs. 90,000 | At 6 annas per cwt. Rs. 1,26,000. |
| Ghee ..... | 1,79,768 | At 10 annas per Bombay maund. Rs. 2,09,700 | At 6 annas per Bombay maund. Rs 1,20,000 |
| Total.. | 5,47,352 | 4,85,700 | 33,70 000 |

This table shows an estimated yield of Rs. 3,37,000 in 1888-89 as against Rs. 4,85,700 in 1887-88, a reduction of Rs. 148, 700 as compared with the estimate for 1887-88, the actuals for which are likely to exceed the estimate by about Rs, 50,000, and of Rs. 2,10,352 as compared with the actuals of 1886-87.

The sum represented by the ½ per cent., reduced by the Corporation from the consolidated rate in the Budget for 1887-88, is estimated at about Rs. 1,25,000.

I trust, therefore, that Government are satisfied with the estimated reduction in Town Duties to the extent of Rs. 1,48,700. These reductions were possible owing to two causes :—

(a) The great increase in building of late years, and the consequent rapid growth of the consolidated rate charged on properties.

(b) The change of system introduced during the current year by which it was decided that all new works costing more than Rs. 20,000 should be charged to Loan Funds, thereby releasing a sum of about 2 lakhs per annum, formerly charged to current revenue.

The total Revenue Estimate as passed by the Corporation for 188 -89 amounts to Rs. 46,46,750, and together with the estimated opening balance, the sum available for expenditure during 1888-89 is estimated at Rs. 51,89,750. This sum is sufficient to meet all the expenditure which I have recommended to the Corporatian for 1888-89.

I trust that Government will now be pleased to sanction the proposal which I made in my letter No. 2131, dated 11th May, 1887, i. e., to sanction the raising of the whole of the balance required for the Tansa Works instead of requiring the Municipal Commissioner to apply year by year for the sum required for that year's expenditure.

I have on former occasions, brought to the notice of Government the great delay that is rendered necessary by the inevitable correspondence on the subject of these frequent loan applications, and I need not therefore trouble Government by reiterating the arguments in favour of granting sanction, once for all, for the whole sum necessary to complete the Tansa Lake Works.

I may only instance the case of the seven lakhs' sanitary loan, applied for more than a year ago, final sanction to the raising of which has not yet been received. I do not overlook the fact that this delay is partly due to informalities of procedure on my part in the direction of raising a loan urgently required without waiting for the receipt of formal sanction; but on the other hand as it is impossible to stop important works in progress, when such informalities occur, it will inevitably happen again (as it happened in the case of the seven lakhs' loan) that the Municipal Commissioner, rather than involve the Municipality in the great loss which would result from suspending operations of such magnitude, will be obliged to take upon himself the responsibility of raising loans to carry on the works.

In the case of the Tansa Works the complete project has been approved of by Government, and I respectfully urge that there is now no longer any reason for Government to withhold their sanction to raise the balance required to complete the 123 lakhs' loan—the estimated cost of the project; this balance to be raised in such instalments between 1888 and 1892 as the Municipality may find necessary for the works.

Supposing, however, that Government find themselves unable to adopt this view, then I request that Government will accord sanction to raise 25 lakhs of the Tansa loan between 1st August 1888 and 15th January 1889 for expenditure in the end of 1888 and first half of 1889.

In connection with this I beg to draw attention to my letter No. 13705, of 16th December, 1887, on the subject of leaving the Municipality free to raise the instalments of their loans on such dates as they may find advantageous, having regard to market rates, instead of being tied down by the terms of the application to raise their loans on particular dates fixed so long beforehand that the advantage of favourable terms of the market cannot be reaped.

For the reasons explained in that letter I trust that it may not be necessary to fix the dates and amounts of instalments for the raising of the 25 lakhs now.

Should this point, however, be decided against me, then to avoid delay I will mention the following dates :—

8 lakhs.....15th August 1888.
8 " ..... 1st October 1888.
9 " .....15th November 1888.

SIR STEUART BAYLEY, Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, has had a narrow escape from drowning. His Honour and party were out on the Hooghly in a launch on Saturday afternoon, when a severe storm occurred. They were in considerable danger for a time of being swamped, but happily they regained terra firma in safety.

THE claims of the Sindhis to be considered in such arrangements as may be made for the future of the Province have been until recently very inadequately set forth. They now find expression in the Sind Times, which unreservedly opposes annexation to the Punjab, and stands up for the Bombay connection. The proposed transfer, that paper says, will affect most materially the happiness and well-being of the people of Sind. For them therefore to drop urging their needs, views, and desires upon the Supreme Government, will argue a want of public spirit or a dull perception of public good on their part. To the Province at large the connection with the Punjab will be productive of unmixed evil. As we have clearly pointed out before, civilization, education, justice, and the happiness of the Sindhis individually and collectively will be seriously retarded and jeopardised, and the Province will be pushed back to its old backward condition. Even the assumed advantages to commerce by the proposed amalgamation when calmly considered dissolve into thin air. We have it on the authority of more than one important European merchant of Karachi that no benefits whatever will accrue to trade by the transfer. We apprehend that on the other hand the trade of Karachi, specially that part of it which is in the hands of Sindhi resident merchants, is in danger of suffering after the transfer by being forced to run the gauntlet of Punjab competition. To anyone dispassionately considering the solicitude of Bombay to improve the harbour of Karachi and its trade, and the comparative helplessness of the Punjab Government and the low condition of its finances, it will at once strike that Sind will thrive under the stewardship of Bombay and not of the Punjab.

Two men, Khan Mahomed and his son, Chirag Din, have been committed for trial by the District Magistrate, Ferozepore, for shooting and wounding the Nawab of Mamdote.

THE ASSASSINATION OF MR. ANDREW DALGLEISH.

IT has been announced in our telegraphic columns that Mr. Andrew Dalgleish, the intrepid traveller, has been assassinated by a Pathan. Commenting on the unfortunate occurrence, the Allahabad paper writes :—

Though his journeys were undertaken with rather a commerical than a political or geographical purpose, he had all the daring and adventure which belong to the born explorer; and he possessed, what many explorers have not, a rare faculty of winning the friendship of wild and hostile tribes. His knowledge of the country and peoples lying between Kashmir and Chinese Turkistan was quite unique. For years back he has journeyed regularly between Kashmir and Yarkand, always received with a glad welcome alike by the mountaineers who dwell about the "roof of the world" and by the Chinese authorities on the further side, the latter of whom gave him, in the summer of 1883, a free passport to enter Chinese Turkistan whenever he willed. Mr. Dalgleish always maintained that the Indian Governments took far too little pains to open up trade with Kashgaria. When he was there in 1883 and 1884 he found a Russian Consul, M. Petrowsky, a man of enterprise and resource, doing every thing in his power to push a trade in Russian goods and secure protection and advantageous terms for Russian merchants; but the many Indian subjects trading with Yarkand, Kashgar, Aksu, Khoten and other Kashgarian towns he found wandering "friendless and alone." Unless something is done by the Indian Government, exclaimed Dalgleish in one of his letters "farewell to a permanent native trade with Chinese Turkistan." Nothing has been done, and now that Dalgleish is dead and no one remains to tell Government that it ought to be done, the farewell has a fair chance of being given, even as it has already been in the case of the Indian green tea trade with Central Asia. Dalgleish's most notable work, however, was accomplished in co-operation with another traveller. When Mr. A. D. Carey started in the summer of 1885 on his remarkable journey from Kashmir round Chinese Turkistan and along the frontier of Tibet, he took Dalgleish with him as Turki interpreter; and the two travellers remaind together until Mr. Carey returned to India in the spring of last year, after one of the most interesting and adventurous journeys on record. Throughout their wanderings Dalgleish's skill and resource in scarcely known latitudes, his achievements as a "medicine man," and his knowledge of the nature and habits of the half civilized tribes of the regions traversed were invaluable; and on their return it was Dalgleish's sketch, map and explanatory notes which were deposited with the Royal Geographical Society the President of that body returning him special thanks on the occasion when Mr. Carey's descriptive account of the journey was read. The friends of geographical science have thus good cause to bear a grudge against the Kakar Pathan—if Kakar Pathan it was, staying so unwontedly far from his beaten track as Kargbalik who fired the fatal shot, nor will the hardy hillmen of the Karakorum thank him for destroying the bold and kindly English-man who went in and out among them for so many years.

A MAILED KNIGHT IN THE WITNESS-BOX.

A POLICE court, even in Paris (remarks the correspondent of the Daily Telegraph) is a prosaic place so far as scenery is concerned; but a great deal of colour was observable yesterday in the witness-box as it may be called of the Tribunal of Correctional Police. There stood with his vizor up a tall personage in the full panoply of a knight-errant of the Middle Ages. To adopt a somewhat vulgar but expressive phrase, "he had them all on." He was resplendent in a coat of mail, his hands were encased in iron gauntlets and he looked, in fact, as if he had just stepped out of the pages of "Ivanhoe" or "Orlando-Furioso." His appearance, of course, created what may be called without the least touch of exaggeration, "a sensation." The grin greffer of the court looked surprised, the young barristers and attorneys smiled, and the expression on the face of the presiding judge can only be imagined. At last the greffer summoned up courage after much whispering had taken place between him and the judge, to demand of the mediæval effigy an account of himself. Then it transpired that the man of mail was hight Pierre Grosolaude, that he was engaged in distributing handbills for the proprietor of the brasserie of "The Beautiful Fredegonda," and that he had been subpœnaed in the case Blancard v. Denizet. "But how comes it," asked the irate presiding magistrate, "that you have the audacity to present yourselves in a dress like that?" The reply was delivered in a faltering tone. Yielding to necessity, the knight-errant had pawned his prosaic attire and was obliged to appear in the professional habiliments, in which he distributed handbills on the boulevards setting forth the comforts and luxuries of the brasserie of "The Fair Fredegonda" and the peerless beauty of its principal Hebe. The answer having satisfied the magistrate, the witness was told to sit down; but he caused further explosions of laughter when he navely said, "I can't sit down, your worship, with all my ironmongery on!" As business could not be proceeded with owing to the irrepressible merriment, which turned the court of justice into a sort of branch of the Palais-Royal Theatre, the depositions of the champion of Fredegonda were taken in camera, and he was sent speedily about his business.

THE Students' Magazine for April contains a lengthy biography, with portrait, of the late Mr. Jamsetjee Nusserwanjee Petit, with selections from his Gujerati poems.

AN EXPERT ON AFTER-DINNER SPEAKING.

IN Mr. Lowell's last volume of poems there is "heartsease" as well as "rue." The late Minister is an optimist, and he knows it :—

For me Fate gave, whate'er she else denied,
A nature sloping to the southern side.

He is not only an optimist in general, he is particularly humorous, and in regard to after-dinner speaking, of which when in this country he often proved himself a master, it may be safely prophesied that the following lines, supposed to have been spoken in acknowledging a toast to the Smith Professor at Harvard, will provide as many quotations for needy post-prandial orators as the Biglow Papers themselves. The Smith in question had founded a chair of foreign languages which in 1866, the date of the verses, Mr. Lowell occupied.

I rise, Mr. Chairman, as both of us know,
With the impromptu I promised you three weeks ago,
Dragged up to my doom by your might and my mane,
To do what I vowed I'd do never again;
And I feel like your good honest dough when possest
By a stirring, impertinent devil of yeast.
"You must rise," says the leaven. "I can't," says the dough;
"Just examine my bumps, and you'll see it's no go."
"But you must," the tormentor insists, "'tis all right;
You must rise when I bid you, and, what's more, be light."
'Tis a dreadful oppression, this making men speak
What they're sure to be sorry for all the next week;

* * * * *

They say it is wholesome to rise with the sun,
And I dare say it may be if not overdone;
(I think it was Thomson who made the remark
'Twas an excellent thing in its way—for a lark;)
But to rise after dinner and look down the meeting
On a district (as Gray calls it) prospect of Eating,
With a stomach half full and a cerebrum hollow
As the tortoise-shell ere it was strung for Apollo?

* * * * *

I've a notion, I think, of a good dinner speech
Tripping light as a sandpiper over the beach,
Swerving this way and that as the wave of the moment
Washes out its slight trace with a dash of whim's foam on't,
And leaving on memory's rim just a sense
Something graceful had gone by, a live present tense;
Not poetry,—no, not quite that but as good,
A kind of winged prose that could fly if it would.
'Tis a time for gay fancies as fleeting and vain
As the wisper of foam-beads on fresh-poured champagne,
Since dinners were not perhaps strictly designed
For manœuvring the heavy dragoons of the mind.
When I hear your set speeches that start with a pop,
Then wander and meander, too feeble to stop,
With a vague apprehension from popular rumour
There used to be something by mortals called humour,
Beginning again when you thought they were done,
Respectable, sensible, weighing a ton,
And as near to the present occasions of men
As a Fast Day discourse of the year eighteen ten,
I—well, I sit still, and my sentiments smother,
For am I not also a bore and a brother?

THE INUNDATIONS IN GERMANY.

THE German Empress and her three daughters visited the inundated districts of Prussia on Monday, April 9th, and were everywhere greeted with enthusiasm. At Landsberg, where the royal train stopped for a time, the Empress told one of the officials that the Kaiser was much pained at not having been able to come himself. She visited various places where the homeless were being sheltered, and thanked all those engaged in the work of relief, and promised that everything possible should be done. There was a crowded assembly of the local authorities at the station at Posen, to greet her Majesty, who expressed the Emperor's and her own sympathy for their afflicted people, inquired minutely into all the details of the disasters, and conversed at length with the chief local celebrities, civil and ecclesiastic, about the object of her visit. The Polish inhabitants of the town were greatly pleased at reading a notice in their own language calling upon them to give the Kaiserin an enthusiastic reception; and when her Majesty drove through the town in an open carriage, attended by an escort of her own body-regiment—the 2nd Hussars—the streets were lined with thousands of town and country folk, whose cheering and shouts of joy attained a pitch of frantic fervour.

In order to give some idea of the widespread nature of the distress, a correspondent mentions that the inundated districts are together equal in size to about the half of England. The loss sustained by some of the largest landowners amounts to as much as £10,000 sterling. The poor inhabitants, of whom, unfortunately, the inundated population chiefly consists, have, of course, suffered much more in proportion. In Posen the inundated districts cover 250 English square miles of country, with seven towns and eighty villages. In the city of Posen there are 8,000 persons in dire distress. Schneidemuhl is like a town after a bombardment. One hundred and eighty buildings are in ruins. In East and West Prussia the destruction of property is still going on, and is greater than in any other province. In the province of Hanover more than 20,000 persons are affected. The chief calamity is that districts hitherto fertile have been so covered with sand that for decades to come they will probably be more or less barren. Funds for the relief of the distress have been opened, one by the Lord Mayor of London, to which over 2,000*l* had been subscribed on Thursday.

THE RUMBOLD CLAIM AGAINST THE HYDERABAD GOVERNMENT.

THE St. James's Gazette publishes the following letter with reference to the claims made by Sir Horace Rumbold against the Nizam's Government :—

The submission to the Nizam by our Minister at the Hague of a claim for a sum of money amounting to eleven lakhs, and its settlement in full for three, has not a nice appearance; nor will it, when the facts come to be known, redound to our credit either in the East or in the West. It is unfortunate, moreover to say the least of it, that this claim, which has been previously rejected under the advice of the Government of India should have been made immediately after the youthful Nizam's generous offer to us of 60 lakhs for the defence of the Indian frontier had been announced. Sir Horace Rumbold's mildewed statement of debts due by the Nizam to him, as the heir of Sir William Rumbold, is connected with the failure of an Indian banking and trading firm, certain of whose transactions were so notoriously evil in the first quarter of the century that they were put a stop to by the Government of India. This firm—which an Eurasian of the name of Palmer who was in the military service of the Nizam founded in Hyderabad in 1810-11, and of which Sir William Rumbold became a partner in 1814—declared itself bankrupt a few months after the payment to it by the Government of Bengal on account of the Nizam of a sum of nearly seventy-nine lakhs; this payment having been made to it through the Resident, Sir Charles Metcalfe. As Sir William Rumbold had ceased to be a partner of the firm of William Palmer and Co., some six months before the remaining partners declared themselves bankrupt, it is not easy to understand what ground for any claim against the Nizam, or against his Highness' Government, the heir of Sir William Rumbold had. If there existed any ground for claim on the part of the late Sir William Rumbold against anybody with reference to the affair of the firm of William Palmer and Co., it would seem that the claim should have been against the trustees of the firm and not against the Nizam or his Government. The transactions of William Palmer and Co. were described by the founder of the house as "lucrative." This person cannot be accused of having in any way mismaned them.

The following were the prices of certain articles sold by William Palmer and Co, to the Nizam or some of his nobles, and on which prices interest at the rate of 12 per cent. per annum was charged:—Peppermint lozenges, 120 rupees per dozen; a peacock 2,700 rupees; a tinder-box, 131½ rupees; a large diamond and some smaller ones, 1,30,000 rupees (one lakh and thirty thousand); one pair of pearls at six months' credit, 14,000 rupees; three looking-glasses, 19,687 rupees.

Sir John Gorst's reply to Mr. McLagan's question leaves the matter in a more unsatisfactory state than it was before, as in the deed of assignment from William Palmer and Co., for the benefit of their creditors, it is clearly shown that the interest and responsibility of Sir William Rumbold in the house had ceased some six months previous to the house becoming bankrupt. If Sir John Gorst has perused any records at all in reference to this case, it is strange that he has not come across this one.

THE Hon. Mrs. Lionel Tennyson, whose husband, it will be remembered, died about two years ago on his return voyage from India, is about to marry Mr. Augustine Birrell, the author of "Obiter Dicta" and other works.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS AND THE ADMISSION OF STRANGERS.

THE House of Commons recently appointed a Select Committee to consider the rules applying to the admission of strangers to the House, and the committee held its first meeting on April 12. The chair was occupied by Viscount Ebrington. Mr. Pomeroy, Secretary to the Speaker, was examined and explained the rules under which strangers formerly and at present were admitted to the House. Under the gallery there were 18 seats; in the special gallery 15; in the Speaker's 54; and in the strangers' gallery 70, or with pressure 80; besides a gallery for Peers, Ambassadors, the Attorney-General, and Solicitor-General not in Parliament, the Judges, and Crown Agents of Colonies, when business relating to their Colony was before the House. In 1885 there was a ticket for the admission of strangers issued, and a counterfoil was kept in a book containing the name and address of the stranger. Every member applying for an order of admission had to bring a letter from the individual who desired admission. This letter was filed and numbered according to the number of the ticket. On the individual entering the gallery he had to sign his name in a book, and the name and address of this person had to correspond with the name and address and handwriting of the stranger applying. This system was found not to answer, and the members did not like it. There was no mode of comparing the signatures in the letters and in the books. That system was then altered to the system which prevails now. Strangers were not allowed to go for refreshments when there was no morning sitting, and were not allowed to pass the central hall. He could not give any information as to the number of applications for admission, except from the account of the postage for the transmission of orders to members, which was kept in his department. In 1880 the postage account was 13*l*; in 1881, 17*l*; in 1882, 18*l*.; in 1883, 15*l*.; in 1884, 22*l*.; in 1885 25*l*.; in 1886, 26*l*; in 1887, 27*l*; and so far as this session had gone it had averaged 11*s* a week. During the first three weeks of the present session the applications were as numerous as he had ever known them to be; but since the House had become more business-like the applications were fewer. The earlier hour of meeting had also greatly reduced the attendance of strangers. The other day, although his list of orders showed the strangers' gallery to be full, there were not 10 persons in it. The witness then explained the mode of issuing supplementary orders when the original applicants did not use their order, and he mentioned that 75 per cent. of the applications for admission came from the same members of the House, and one member had gone the length of getting the application printed, as he forwarded so many of them. He thought members would like to have the privilege of issuing orders themselves instead of making applications for them. As to the lobby, he said that the Speaker, at the time of the explosions, had taken over the lobby arrangements, not in consequence of the explosions, but in consequence of complaints made to him as to the crowded state of the lobby.—Cross-examined by the Home Secretary, he said that the present system of admitting strangers to the House was very cumbersome, but so far as police supervision was concerned it answered its purpose. The officer at the door ought not to admit the stranger unless his name and address were on the ticket of admission and agreed with the name and address written by him in the book at the time of his admission. This book contained also the number of the ticket and the name of the member admitting him.—

A NEW MEDICAL WORK ON MARRIAGE. By a Physician of many years' practice. A practical guide to young men before entering the wedded state; with plain instructions for the speedy removal of all disqualifications and impediments which too often debar happiness therein; it also treats on the cause of premature decline, loss of manhood, nervous debility, lassitude, shyness, incapacity for study or business, distaste for society, and the numberless infirmities resulting from youthful errors or excesses of adult life, together with the highly successful and thoroughly safe mode of treatment, whereby sufferers may speedily be restored to health and happiness.—Lawes, Medical Publisher, 14, Hand Court, Holborn, London, W. C.

DR. DE ROOS' CONCENTRATED GUTTÆ VITÆ OR VEGETABLE LIFE DROPS.

THE alchemists of old spent years in endeavouring to find out the means of transmuting the baser metals into gold, but in vain. It was, however, reserved for a physician of the 19th Century to make a far more valuable discovery in occult science—the result of deep research into the arcana of Nature's mysteries—which is here offered to the world; and the pleasing results of a quarter of a century, during which time this wonderful medicine has been tried in every quarter of the globe, all corroborate the most sanguine of the inventor's hopes. Thousands of voluntary testimonials from grateful patients testify to the fact that from this remarkable tonic alone, new life has been imparted to numbers of debilitated individuals; and it is not too much to say that hundreds of persons are at the present day in full enjoyment of their mental and bodily powers—in thorough good health—who previously were confirmed hypochondriacs, had been given up by the faculty as incurable and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a misery to themselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends.

This great life-reviving medicine gives vitality and strength to the most shattered constitutions. It not only strengthens the system but purifies the blood, and promotes a healthy circulation of the fluids, thus imparting strength and tone to the nerves, enlivening and invigorating both body and mind. It greatly improves the appetite and restores the digestive powers, whilst for dyspeptic persons it is unrivalled. Those who (from long residence in hot climates) suffer from languor and relaxation, as also all persons going to the East or West Indies should provide themselves with this important article on health.

Youth and age equally participate in the miraculous effects of this wondrous medicine, for whether the body be debilitated in early life, or sinking under the advance of years, a few doses will speedily afford assurance of returning health, by giving tone to the muscular and nervous systems, and through the organs of digestion renovating the whole constitution. To the young it affords health, strength, and spirits, in place of lassitude and debility; while to the aged and infirm it assuredly furnishes great relief and comfort, by gently and safely invigorating the whole corporeal frame; and although it is not put forward as imparting immortality, it will certainly gild the autumn of declining years, and in all cases, calmly and serenely protract the close of life. For females of all ages, as also for delicate children who cannot take cod-liver oil, the Guttæ Vitæ will be found a great boon—being far superior in its strengthening properties, and at the same time so pleasant to the palate that it can hardly be called a medicine. To married persons, especially, this preparation will prove invaluable, giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incapacity for exertion. Price, 11s. and 33s. per bottle. The large size contains sufficient for four weeks.

PAINS IN THE BACK, GRAVEL, LUMBAGO, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS AND BLADDER, STRICTURES, &c.

DR. DE ROOS' COMPOUND RENAL PILLS

Are justly celebrated all over the world as the most safe and speedy remedy for the above dangerous complaints. Discharges of any kind, Stone in the Bladder and diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs generally.

These celebrated Pills are an infallible remedy in the most obstinate cases. By their use alone many thousands are annually restored to health and the agonies of gout and rheumatism may now be considered a voluntary affliction as no one need suffer these excruciating torments if they will only have recourse to these Pills, which are confidently recommended by the proprietor as the only real specific; whilst for weakness across the loins, sandy or other deposit in the water, and in all cases of renal or urinary disturbance, they are, indeed, unrivalled. They correct acidity of the stomach, promote the functions of the liver and kidneys, thereby preventing stone in the bladder, &c. Many complaints, long supposed to be nervous, often arise solely from contamination of the blood with certain impurities which should have been carried off by the kidneys. Thousands of testimonials from grateful patients attest their marvellous efficacy. In packages 1s., 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s.

DR. DE ROOS' PILULÆ VITÆ, OR VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS

Are the most wonderful Pills in the World for all Disorders of the Liver, Stomach and Bowels. They do not gripe or purge, and for habitual costiveness, loss of appetite, disturbed sleep, harrassing dreams, wind, indigestion, sick headache, furred tongue, unpleasant taste in the mouth on rising in the morning, sallowness, sourcy, &c., they are of unexampled efficacy; and being prepared solely from the Vegetable Kingdom, may be taken with the utmost safety by the most delicate of either sex.

Those who are subject to occasional attacks of Biliousness instead of resorting to the old-fashioned blue pill and nauseous black draught, will do well to keep a box of these Pills by them, and never leave home without them; an attack may thus be nipped in the bud by taking a dose or two which, if allowed to run its course for a few days would probably almost completely prostrate its unhappy victim. Sold in boxes at 1s. 1½d. 2s. 9d. and 4s. 6d.

Every package of Dr. De Roos' preparations bears the British Government Stamp with the words—"Walter De Roos, London," in White Letters on a Red Ground, by order of Her Majesty's Honourable Commissioners, without which none can possibly be genuine. Dr. De Roos world-famed medicines may be obtained of all the principal Merchants in India.

Over 10 years have elapsed since we introduced our Celebrated Keyless Campaign Watches, and the unparallelled success they have obtained in India is shown by their rapidly increasing sale and by the numerous imitations which the popularity of a special and reputed article always brings forth. However, those imitations, in what number they may be found, are still all of them far inferior in every particular to our well-known CAMPAIGN WATCHES, which stand unrivalled in the market, and which we mean to improve still—if it is possible to improve what we might call already a perfection.

In Open-face Case, Rs. 16 & 2

All our Watches are made in our Steam Factory in Switzerland, carefully examined and tested there, and again in our Establishment at Bombay before leaving. Sold either in small or middle size.
